

Host and Presenter Roles in Adobe Connect

The presenter role can be assigned to a user when they are enrolled or a host can promote a participant to the presenter role (*a demoted host retains its capabilities). The host has full control over the Adobe Connect session while the presenter role is appropriate for student presentations or guest presenters - a medium level, contained role. This side by side comparison compares both roles.

Each session must have at least one host to control the session – recording, moving between layouts, opening pods, and granting capabilities to participants.
